Dear Joe,

Just a brief note to bring you up to date with what I have found out.

Had a call from Dave Chapman over the holidays and took the opportunity to ask him if he had found out the death date of Inch. He said Webbie had returned to Scotland, that he didnt have the date locked into his noggin and would send it to Chapman when he, Webbie, got back home.

I WAS NOT BORN at 3AM. I was born in the afternoon, 3 PM. I found this out by calling my sister asking her to verify. She did. So I am an afternoon bird.

I am enclosing a bit written by John Dawe re the demise of Goerner. Stuff in it you might use re your up coming bit on Herman. Please xerox and return.

There are also some other Goerner bits that might interest you. When Herman and his brother trashed up a beer joint. Another time they pulled down some iron railingz surrounding a house. John Dawe might supply you with details about these happenings. I remember he told me about them.

Hope you had a good xmas. I had a quiet one--- sad time of the year for me. But it was made happier by several calls I had from all over the place, including one from Australia and another from England, plus six calls from various points in the States,

Catch ya someother time,

best to you and yours,
