Dear Joe,

Thanks for yours post dated June 26th, which arrived here yesterday. Glad to learn the shots arrived safely. Take care of them. They are among the sole remnants of my glory days and I treasure them and want Vera to have them when I finally leave this poxy world.

Not too much news I am afraid, apart from the news that there is a new muscle mag coming out soon. It is to be published by that popular polka performer, Whoopy Wilfahrt and will be titled MUSCULAR MICTURATION. The lead article is a doozy--- GAINING MURICLOSE BEINS ON THREEMONTHS. I can't wait to see the first copy.

If I were you I wouldn't worry about David Gentle failing to send you the so called British magazines. The other day I received about ten from a pen pal in England. I will send you them bit by bit, since to send them all at once would constitute cruel and unusual punishment. They are bloody horrible and cheap imitations of all that is bad in American muscle mags. The pages are crammed with advertisements, in one instance fifty percent of the bloody mag is ads. The others have 30% ads in their pages. The color is disarraying, the layout horrific, the body content just plain SHIT and it is a case of thieves stealing from thieves. I was also astonished to see the many models illustrating the so called articles, heavily tattooed. This shows real sense--- editorial that is.

To sum up my feelings if ever I get sea sick again, I am sure I will vomit up something like these mags. They are just plain bloody horrible. Feel elated you HAVN'T GOT 'EM.

Not to play the devil's advocate, little has been away on vacation--- to Corfu in Greece, no less--- and I guess he didn't have the time to follow through with his promise to you. GENERALLY he has come through with some of his promises to me, but CAVEAT. He is another Alaskan smoked fisherman. Again, caveat.

I talked with the Reverend briefly the other day and he said naught of Jan's illness. I do hope she hasn't had a set back with her previous problem. I do hope.

I sent in an article to the Wunderkind the other day--- two weeks ago--- and haven't had any reply yet. Not that he is always prompt in his answers either.

If you want to "pay" me for those shots, why not send me half a dozen copies of our reports telling my grisly tale? Then I'll forget we owe each other anything. Indicate, please, approval or otherwise. I have only one copy of your June-July issue.

Binviolle always is a hail fellow well met and means it too. Georg Blokk

As for Don Amino acid and his failure to reply. WHAT DID I TELL YOU! Those who don't reply to letters promptly, if at all, are, in my eyes immediately suspected a GOOD business man ALWAYS replies to ALL letters. That is why he is a GOOD business man. Those in it for the dough only are poor correspondents. Witness the Salmon King who only writes when he wants something or has something
